
THEY ALSO SERVE WHO STAND AND WAIT !!

Ready

To meet the faces

Never wanted to meet.

Ready

To go to the places

Never wanted to visit.

Ready

To forgive the people

Never wanted to be part of my memories.

Ready

To move ahead

Keeping aside my self-respect and pride

after getting robbed, ripped, ruffled, and ruined.

Ready

To forget and move ahead

Breaking shells of wisdom with a few pearls of experience

Shaken by storms and tempests

Drifting like an autumn leaf

Thrashed by the violent winds

Derelect, I saunter and stroll.

Lights! Yes far off I can see

Gleaming gleefully, beckoning

But are they for me?

When there is conflict between

Faith and intellect,

Heart and head seem far apart

But the fact I accept is

Both are my parts

Balancing act is a fact too hard.

Oh God! Bless my bleeding heart

Show me the right path

Want to walk with my head high,

On grit and determination I only rely,

John Milton's words do I comply

"They also serve who stand and wait!"
